Canadian music

A total of 20 Canadian recording artists have been selected to appear in three of five concerts to be held June 5, 6 and 7 in Montreal and Toronto as part of the Maple Music Junket.

The purpose of the Junket is to promote Canadian talent in the European market. Some 100 journalists, radio and TV programmers, editors and film makers from Europe have been invited to attend three English concerts and two French language shows.

The Junket is being financed by members of the Canadian Recording Manufacturers Association (CRMA), the Composers, Authors and Publishers Association of Canada (CAPAC), Broadcast Music Canada (BMI) and the federal government.

The first concert will feature middle-of-the-road pop music, and will take place in Place des Arts on Monday, June 5. The featured artists will be Anne Murray, The Stampeders, The Poppy Family, Frank Mills, Andre Gagnon and Moe Koffman.

Folk and rock will be the theme of the second concert in Massey Hall in Toronto on June 6. Artists scheduled to appear will be Bruce Cockburn, Murray McLauchlin, Chris Kearsey, The Perth County Conspiracy, Fergus, the Mercey Brothers and Gary Buck.

The third concert will be rock music, and will also be held in Toronto's Massey Hall, on June 7. This concert will showcase the talents of Crowbar, Chilliwack, Lighthouse, Mainline, Manitoulin, Flield and Edward Bear.

The lineups for the two final concerts, featuring French-Canadian "Quebec Chaud," have yet to be announced.

The artists were chosen by a committee chaired by RPM Magazine publisher Walt Grealis. RPM is the Canadian music industry's weekly trade publication.

Committee members included record retailer Sam Sniderman, CKOC Hamilton radio music director Wayne Bryant, Radio Mutuel music director Jacques Dufresne, and rock journalists Michael Bennet and Jum Rodrigues.

Several artists chosen by the committee were unable to appear due to prior commitments, and included Gord Lightfoot, The Bells, The Guess Who and Neil Young.

Donald Tarlton of Donald K. Donald Productions will produce the Montreal concert, while Martin Onrot Associates will handle the two Toronto shows. Tickets for all shows will go on sale at a later date.

Elton finds footwear a comedown at customs

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Elton John, the British pop singing star, has found that the latest fashion in footwear has its drawbacks.

U.S. customs agents said they delayed John upon arrival last week while a cobbler examined four pairs of high-heeled boots, a type which has been used to smuggle narcotics and jewels into the U.S.

The shoes, with seven- to eight-inch heels and three- to five-inch soles, contained no secret compartments or contraband and the singer was allowed to complete his business trip.

"Those shoes are becoming the rage in London," explained Bob Levinson, a spokesman for the singer.

Allie Eisst took full charge of the defense in an attempt to establish the setting tricks. South salvaged his four-spade contract by correctly diagnosing his opponent's intentions in time to develop a successful counter-strategy.

West opened the king of hearts on which East signaled violent encouragement by dropping the jack. West continued with the four and East put up the ace and led back a third round which forced declarer to ruff in dummy with the ten.

South had lost two tricks and insurmark as his bidding was solid in the minor suits, the only problem on the deal was to confine himself to one trump loser. This would be routine if spades divided three-three, however, if one defender held four trumps headed by the jack-ding, then careful play would be required to avoid losing two spade tricks. East's extreme eagerness to play three rounds of hearts to force out the ace of trumps suggested the desirability to South of reducing his own holding in trumps to set the stage for an end play.

The closed hand was entered with the king of clubs and the king of spades was cashed. When only small spots appeared, South reverted to clubs, crossing back to the ace and leading a third round which he ruffed with the seven of spades as both opponents followed suit.

The ace of diamonds was played next, followed by a small diamond to the jack—on which East's ten appeared. The king was led and when East discarded a heart, declarer ruffed with the three of spades. He was left with the Q-10-4 and he calmly exited with the eight. East was in with the nine and since his only remaining cards were the jack-six of trumps, he was obliged to lead back the six and South won the last two tricks by finessing the ten and then playing the queen.
